Problems May Be Too Much For Communists STATE DEPARTMENT'S VIEWS

Laramie, Wyoming, August 13. A State Department official indicated today that the United States Government is counting heavily on the eventual collapse of the Communist regime in China.

Francis H. Russell, director of the Department's Office of Public Affairs, said it is doubtful how long the Communists will be able to control the sprawling country which they are rapidly conquering.

Speaking before the Institute of International Affairs at Wyoming University, Mr. Russell said the problems of providing sufficient food, carrying out an efficient administration, and fitting the individualistic Chinese into a rigid ideological pattern might well prove to be the undoing of the victorious Communists.

Canadian Ship's Rescue At Sea

Apart from 1,200 tons of cargo for the Colony, the Canadian Liberty type cargo vessel, ss. Tricape, also brought here yesterday two Malay survivors picked up about 15 miles East of Singapore, the vessel's last port of call,

Believed to be Malay fishermen of a village in Tinji, Johore, the men spoke not a word of English and Mr. H. Edwards, the vessel's Third Officer, had to draw and make signs to them to learn their story.

Officers of the Tricape said to go to England via the Panama that to the best of their un- Canal. derstanding, after questioning | Captain Gordon has an allthe survivors, the pair were Canadian crew of 41 including 12 officers. After the survivors half of the crew of a native were picked up, the crews passed Malay fishing boat which sank the hat and collected $300 for the after a collision. two "year fortugate fishermen,"

Since only two men were as the Third Mate called the two picked up, the officers believed Malays that the other two must have been drowned.

The survivors told the officers that they were thrown into the water at about 1 a.m. on August 7. They were sighted and picked up by the Canadians at about 11.45 a.m. the same day.

Describing the rescue the Third Officer said that the survivors were first seen clinging to a bamboo spar and waving the freighter, which was about two miles off the nearest shore.

Immediately the ship turned around and scramble nets were put down. When nearing the survivors, one of the sailors of the freighter dived into the water' and by lastening a rope around the younger survivor, the Canadians pulled the man up. le was in a state of collapse. The elderly fisherman elimbed aroard by the netting and later also collapsed. They were both given alcohol rubbings and brandy and placed in the ship's hospital.

"Hadild Ahls, the elder survivor, had only his underpants on when he came aboard," Mr. Edwards said, "but Saidle Bin Mahmout had nothing on him except a watch." The watch was an Oberon swimmer's wrist watch.

Quick Recovery

Two days later the men had recovered. They were given old clothes by the ship's crew. The men did many odd jobs while en route to the Colony where they will be taken care of by the police and later repatriated to their homes in Johore. Commanded by Mr. Stewart

C. Gordon the Tricana is in the Colony for the first time.

She is a 10,000-ton regular freighter that carries no passengers. Before she joined the Triton Steamship Company's fleet she was the ss. Elm Park, owned by the Canadian Government. #### BERLIN TO GET ERP AID

Washington, August 12. J. McClov. United | States High Commissioner for Germany, said today that the U.S. Administration has decided that Western Berlin is elirible to receive Marshal Plan

Mr. McCloy said that Washington has clarified this point and he hopes to announce a grant to Western sections of Berlin shortly. Western Germany has been receiving Murshal Aid for some Berlin is not officially included as part of Western Germany and until now has never received Marshall Plan assistance on spite of urgent appeals from West German political leaders.

Mr. McCloy said that the U.S. will do all it can to assist Western Berlin, but he emphasised that this does not mean the American Government alone will assume the burden of meeting the city's deficit, Mr. McCloy told reporters:

1-He is disappointed that Western German political leader. bave spent so much time in "pin pricking" the Western powers doring their political campaigns. 2-The number of former Nazi followers assuming positions of importance in political and economic activities in Germany has shown a large increase. But as long as they are Nazis of secondary importance he would rather see them take part in community activities than have them ostracised completely. 3-Shipment of German made goods to Eastern Europe is desirable within the limitations imto Russia and her dents. potential"

GERMAN ELECTION VIOLENCE

Frankfurt, August 12. The first report of serious violence added new tension today to the German election campaign, previously highlighted by bitter attacks by al parties on American and British occupation policy.

Over 20,000,000 Germans will Germany's first post-war general election, to vote for 400 deputies for the Lower House of the new West German Republic.

Socialists and members of the neo-Nazi German Right Party (DRP) clashed last night at a DRP meeting in Brunswick. The two factions battled with brass knuckles on their fists and pieces of rubber hose before the police broke up the riot.

DRP members sang Nazi songs and shouted "Hei! Hitler" at the Two members of the Infantile Paralysis Fellowship, Miss Gwen Redwood and Mr. Fred Morena, watch Mr. Thomas R. Potter, who is paralysed below the waist, as he demonstrates car controls he has invented for paralysed people, in London. Potter, who runs a school in Dublin, and is a Borough and County Councillor there, says his device can be made for about £12 compared with about £120 for present adaptations. His right hand is on the brake lover, which is coupled with the normal foot brake. Against his chest is the breast-clutch. The driver leans forward to work. The accelerator is a lever on the steering column. Gear lever and another hand brake are in the normal positions. Potter's invention has the approval of police authorities, and he himesif has driven more than 150,000 miles without mishap.—He is 50 years old.

Council Rule

The experiment started five years ago when a deputation of village councillors esked the District Officer what could be done about providing a road to link up with the main-transport system.

This Colonial Office representative, Mr. E. R. Chadwick, was impressed by the fact that the councillors were so obviously in carnest that they had collected £10 towards the cost of the road. #### More Imports

In order to carry on the policy however, the Government must continue to import raw materials from the United States. Therefore, they are maintaining imports of raw materials from the United States by cutting down imports of machinery that we desperately need for the moderolation of our industries. Sir Stafford Cripps said so in so many words in his speech on July 14.

INDEPENDENCE

Today and tomorrow the Pakistani and Indian communities are celebrating the second anniversary of their countries' accession to sovereign independence.

They can take credit for not adding to the menacing divisions the world, but helping bridge them, linking Asian with European groups, the Islamic, Hindu and Buddhist worlds with the Christian. Soon after the independence declaration in August, 1947, it was realised that the change in the nature of the Commonwealth was as profound as when the older dominions achieved completely free status a generation earlier. These numerous peoples, who had formerly exerted their influence only in a muffled way, had now power in their own right, and might have thrown in their lot with the enemies of Britain had they

ACHESON WARNS CHINA REDS AGAINST AN ATTACK ON

U.S. Would Act Through The United Nations OBLIGATIONS UNDER CHARTER

Washington, August 12. The Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, indicated today that the United States will oppose, at least through the United Nations, any aggressive action by the Chinese Communists to wrest control of Hong Kong from Britain.

At a nevis conference Mr. Acheson stopped short of saying flatly that the United States will back up Britain at Hong Kong, but he left the way open for such action.

Mr. Acheson told correspondents that the United States and British Governments have conferred over the Hong Kong situation. It is difficult to answer questions about the extent of United States support of the British in Hong Kong, he said.

Vigour Restored, Glands Made Young In 24 Hours

It is no longer necessary to suffer from loss of vigourand manhood, weak memory and body, nervousness, impure blood, sickly skin, depression; and poor sleep, because an American Doctor has discovered a quick, easy way to end these troubles.

This discovery is in pleasant, easy-to-take tablet form, is absolutely harmless, does away with gland operations and is bringing new youth and vigour to thousands. It works directly on the glands and nerves, and puts new, rich blood and energy in your veins, in 2t hours you can see and feel yourself getting younger. Your eyes sparkle, you feel alive and full of youthful vigour and power.

And this amasing, new gland and vigour restorer, called Vi-Taba, is guaranteed. It has been proved by thousands in America and is now distributed by chemists here under a guarantee of satisfaction or money, back, Vi-Taba must make you feel, full of vigour and energy and from 10 to 30 years younger, or you merely return the empty package and set your money back. When young people pass from school to employment there is often a sharp drop in the moral temperature. Loyalties of home and school are made to look oldfashioned and even hypocritical. # FAILURE." SAYS

New York, August 13.

A top secret report has been drawn up on the alleged failure of Britain's best jet fighters against obsolete American B29's in the recent aerial war games over the British Isles.

The report, says Mr. C. B. Allen, aviation cor-· respondent of the "Herald-Tribune," may be introduced at the current Congress investigations into the B-36 bomber.

London, August 13. Evidence of the expansion of the RAF was given yesterday by an Air Ministry announces ment.

This was that more air traffic controllers were required because "the increasing numbers of jet aircraft and squadrons and the expansion of aircraft movements" were making control more important. No indication of strength was given.

- Karachi, August 12.

The Chittagong Chamber of Commerce has endorsed a resolution from the Pakistan

Federation of Chambers of Commerce and Industry to boycott all Indian goods im-

The Federation's resolution was passed last Saturday to express resentment against an Indian evacuee property ordinance which, it was said.

was designed to confiscate the property of Muslims in India.

that the boycott would remain in force until the ordinance is appealed.—Reuter.

He listed these common objeclives as economic development. preservation of peace and realisation of the values of democracy and social justice in the form of modern organisation. Mr. Ali Khan said Weslern

-geonomic and industrial assistance to these countries , would lessen the weight of this programme.

"Pakistan is prepared to offer leadership in fostering such cooperation," he declared, "Pakistan regards itself as the servant of Islam, It would strive with all mains in its power to promote strength and unity among the countries of the Middle East.

Commenting on the Pakistani decision to cut dollar imports by days strike notice on the 25 per cent, the Premier em-Ministry over a rejected wage phasised that this was an emer-I gency measure taken with other Commonwealth nations.

The only way to restore eco world is by raising the standard order to increase production, he

The Western powers so far have done very little actually to implement their often-expressed desire to assist in the development of Middle Eastern countites, he asserted.

Truman Plan

"President Trumon's Point | as the deadline for its first Four is a step in the righ | definite figures on the sharing direction, but how big a step it will prove depends upon the amount of funds given for this purpose."

The Prime Minister pointed our that Pakislan, like other Middle Eastern countries, is predominantby agricultural, and said it will not reach its full stature without a big programme of industrial development.

"Every country in the earlier Countries of the Middle East are Dr. Boffa, who returned to no exception to this rule and it

Sportsmanship

(By BASSET SCOTT)

My uncle used to say: "It matters enormously who going to win; it doesn't matter a curse who has won. That saying conveys an essenprinciple of sportsmanship.

The man who follows it will be a good winner and a good loser. He will find the then of excitement at shove-halfbenny with a friend in a village pub and he will never be gailed by bitter memories of what might have been. -

Another principle of sportsmanship goes deep into human nature: "the onus of sportsmanship is on the offendor."

When we break the laws of a game and are asked to pay the cheerful alacrity.

The man whose demognour says, pretty clearly, "Well, I supthem " has got his ideas of sportsmanship badly mixed.

* Most 'of us' find it 'much easter and more pleatant fine when we say "Have it again, old boy-you were put off." Excellent—so long as the offer is spontaneous.

But a player must not take advantage of the reluctance refuse by asking for a favour to which he is not entitled.

He must nobeste take a simple example ask at Bridge for permission to look at the last trick after another card has been played for that is to put the other cide in an unpleasant dilemma.

They must either refuse and appear ungracious or acquiesce and give away an advantage. The onus of sportsmenship is on the forgetful player,

The Worst Bedfellows

Sportsmanship and logic have ever been the worst of bedfellows. Sportsmanship is a matter of emotion; "Damned sporting," one says spontaneously, or "the chap's hot a sportsman," as the case may be.

Not only, however, do emotion- was run out. al responses differ, but the verdict of emotion, when examined in the light of reason, is apt to produce disconcerting results.

Let me illustrate. Towards the end of his magnificent innings in the recent Test Match at Lord's Donnelly was "farming the bowling"; repeatedly he refused to run even for a hit to n fieldsman on the boundary.

A Few Mild Grumbles

There were a few mild grum- have wept. bles at this, but generally it was accepted as a perfectly legitimate piece of tactics. Presently he drove the last ball of an over towards the pavilion and started to Mid-off chased the ball, saved the boundary and so Donnelly to score three and keep the bowling.

Nobody seemed to see anything remarkable in this, but I could not help thinking: suppose that fieldsman had deliberately let the ball reach the boundary; suppose that he had even, if necessary, assisted its progress with a gentle kick, what a hullabaloo would have arisen! "Unsporting" would Pollard, also for nothing. While have been the mildest epithet, the ball remained new, Pollard hurled at him.

You agree with this condemnation? Very well. You must then admit that it is right for a butsman to refuse runs for tactical purposes, but wrong for a fieldsman to give runs for tactical purposes. Personally, I just can't

(By Neville Cardus)

Yorkshire batted so imperceptibly at Leeds today that a Yorkshire crowd was impelled to clap hands at defensive, strokes of a Yorkshire player, Halliday, while he was travelling in the nincties of his innings. As I shall hope to show in this message, the match had the form but not the genius of Lancashire and Yorkshire battles long ago.

Lancashire bowled ably, but it was as well to forget Walter Brearley, who in 14 Lancashire and Yorkshire matches took 125 wickets: and Briggs and Parkin; and the piercing, silent speed and destruction of McDonald.

This was a cricket match of the ithront and lungs of Pollard, bone of contention gnawed by vival from other years; he and jawbone-wits pitted against cought at the wicket. with fair cheating all-round.

It is many years since I repaired to the matches of these Northern give than to refuse. The stroke or push did not go far; the close mid-on, and a batsman of Hutton's greatness needed surely to be in no such recktess hurry to open his score on an occasion so momentoùs.

Lowson's immobility, though it added to Hutton's strangely precipitate action, was understandable. But I go hot and cold to imagine Sutcliffe being run out third ball -in -n --- Yorkshire and Lancashire match from a stroke of his own in front of the wicket, The Yorkshire heavens would

Halliday's Escape

It is a sign of the times that the Headingley crowd witnessed this downfall of Hutton for a duck in a respectful silence: there was no blasphemy, no . necessity for reference to the Riot Act. And it was to be noted that at halfpast one, Lowson returned to the pavilion for his lunch, and didn't Stay in the field and have it

A Loriety Appeal

When Ikin took part in the attack, he struck Hulliday's pad second ball and appenied; but done an error not altogether his like Pollard, he appealed alone with no body of opinion behind him. Once on a time, in such matches, appeals were unanimous, with only the umpire occasionally

Null And Void

Berry pleased me by the curved flight of his left-handed bowling, but the wicket was all against him. Of course, no attempt was made to hit him or Ikin on quick feet, and so the game became rather null and void, not to say invisible.

It was one thing, in the old days, to watch Rhodes bowling et Makepeace, maiden after maiden, the two old soldiers at work undermining, so to say. Sappers of suspicion. But the spectacle of Wilson putting a bolted door of a bat before Ikin's off-breaks was not an inspiration of heroic poetry or humour.

A sudden cut to the boundary by Wilson off Berry was quite electrical, and when Halliday at 77 mishit a ball from Pollard over the slips, the crowd broke silence. Not that the batting of Halliday and Wilson was without skill and appeal: it simply fell short of the power to tlictate and bend good but not difficult bowling to its will. Ikin bowled Halliday just before ten. He was on view nearly four hours, and the crowd watched him return to the pavilion with only a formal show of regret that he had missed a century by so Yet there had been leapability in his innings; the trouble about most of our county batsmen nowadays is that the longer they stny in the more slowly they score their runs. They seem positively reluctant to free and enjoy themselves, poor dellows.

Function At IRE

A highly successful social evening was held at the Indian Recreation Club house, yesterday evening, at which a arge number of members and friends were present.

Highlight of the evening's entertainment was a demonstration by the Great Marvico of his many clever tricks which brought forth repeated applause.

Dancing continued up to the early hours of this morning to music provided by the Band of the Argyll and Sutherland High-landers (by kind permission of Lieutenant Colonel L. G. Neilson and Officers of the Regiment) un-
